Welcome To Top Bins Magazine

A magazine dedicated to the JD Cymru Premier, North & South leagues and others bringing you news, views and stats.

This is the edition I have been planning all season. It's the club data reveal that I have been collating since the start. Every goal tracked and when. I hope you enjoy seeing how teams did compared to others. I think its useful to see how teams performed but of course it doesn't tell you the whole story but with the limited data around Welsh football, I feel like I've captured some interesting numbers. It will explain why the mag is almost double in size too. It was such a big copy and paste job and hours and hours of data entry.

I will say though I rely on third party sites for the data so I cannot 100% guarantee every goal was scored in the minute I recorded as I've seen this year times and scorers change later on the apps but I do try and keep it correct. So I'll say 99.99% happy with it.

Advertising

I recently announced on socials that I was looking to take on paid advertising if people wanted to advertise in the mag. The mag will 100% continue with or without advertising but I wanted to put it out there ahead of the new season and maybe one day getting the mag printed properly. I love doing the magazine and will not let the quality / content suffer for adverts so please rest assure when I say this, the most important part of the mag is spreading the word on Welsh league football first and foremost.

Content

This edition features two leading managers in their leagues and I couldn't be happier with the output from talking to them. If there are any ideas for content or even if you are a manger / player/ owner who wants to tell a story or share something, please get in touch. Welsh football is on the rise and it's bringing the clubs closer to the fans and the wider community that I see as very important and a reason for doing this. I can't follow Mike Harris around for a few months with a camera mind, he'd soon get bored of me :)

Anyways, enjoy the edition. There will be a few loose ends ot tie up this season so we'll do a roundup at some point but please everyone enjoy the summer and see you next season.

Newtown look for new manager after relegation confirmed

The dust is still settling on Newtown's shock relegation from the JD Cymru Premier, but the club isn't wasting any time getting to work on the rebuild.

Just days after their 3–2 defeat to Aberystwyth Town confirmed the end of their 32-year stay in the top flight, the Robins have officially begun the hunt for a new manager.

The job ad makes it clear: they're after someone with experience, passion, and a clear plan to take the club forward.

"We are seeking an experienced, passionate, and strategic Football Manager to lead and oversee all aspects of the club's footballing operations," the club said.

"The ideal candidate will be responsible for managing the first team, developing a winning philosophy, fostering talent, and driving both on-field success and off-field professionalism."

In short: they're not looking for a short-term fix. Newtown want someone to take the reins and lead a full reset — not just to get back up, but to build something sustainable for the long run.

It's a big job. The new boss will inherit a squad that's just come through a tough season, a club still reeling from a historic drop, and a fanbase desperate to see their team back where it belongs.

But it's also a huge opportunity. Newtown is a proud club with serious pedigree in Welsh football, and whoever takes the hot seat will have the chance to write a brand new chapter.

The question now: who's brave enough to take it on?

Nomads search for new manager after missing out on playoffs

Connah’s Quay Nomads have parted company with head coach Billy Paynter after the club failed to qualify for the Cymru Premier play-offs.

A 2–0 home loss to Barry Town United sealed their fate, with Barry snatching seventh place and the final play-off spot. For Nomads fans, it's a tough one to take after a season that never quite hit the heights.

Paynter, who had spells as a player with Leeds United, Swindon Town and Port Vale, took over in August 2024 on a two-year deal following the departure of Neil Gibson. He stepped in during what the club described as a difficult transitional period.
Despite reaching this season’s Welsh Cup final and winning the competition last year, Nomads couldn't secure a top-six finish and have now missed out on both the Championship Conference and the post-season.

The club released a statement thanking Paynter for his efforts.

“The Club would like to put on record their gratitude to Billy, taking on the challenge in August at a very difficult transitional time for The Nomads.”

Attention now turns to who will take the reins ahead of what will be a big summer for the club. There’s still silverware up for grabs in the cup final, but the long-term focus is clearly on bouncing back stronger next season.

Trethomas chapter closes, Pontypridd journey begins

When Mark Dunford arrived at Trethomas Bluebirds in 2019, few could have predicted the transformation that was to follow. Over six years, Dunford oversaw a remarkable period of growth, culminating in a title-winning promotion to the JD Cymru South and, this season, a thrilling push for back-to-back promotions.

Picture by Geraint Nicholas/FAW

Under Dunford’s leadership, the Bluebirds evolved from a solid, ambitious club into serious contenders. His focus on building a resilient squad and forging a clear identity paid off handsomely in the 2023–24 season, as Trethomas captured the Ardal South East title. It was a historic achievement — but for Dunford, it was only the beginning.

The 2024–25 season saw Trethomas Bluebirds battling toe-to-toe with heavyweights like Llanelli Town at the top of the Cymru South. Week after week, Dunford’s side proved they belonged among the elite, matching the firepower and pedigree of more established clubs. Despite their efforts, it was Llanelli who ultimately secured the title and promotion.

After the title race concluded and Llanelli were officially crowned champions, Dunford announced he would be stepping down as Trethomas Bluebirds manager. His departure was accompanied by coaches Matthew Jones and Adam Raymond, who also stepped down from their roles, marking the end of an era for the club's leadership team.

Just days later, Pontypridd United confirmed the departure of their manager Andrew Whittington, thanking him for his "hard work and commitment to the club" and wishing him "all the best for the future." On the same day, Pontypridd announced Dunford as their new manager — a return to a club where he had previously played and won a league title during his career.

A few weeks later, Matthew Jones reunited with Dunford, joining Pontypridd United as assistant manager.

The move marked the end of a golden era for Trethomas. For Dunford, it represents not just a fresh challenge but a return to familiar surroundings at a club that holds deep personal significance.

Whatever the future holds, Dunford’s impact on Trethomas Bluebirds is undeniable. He leaves behind a club transformed: stronger, prouder, and dreaming bigger than ever before. His tenure will be remembered not just for the silverware, but for the spirit and resilience he helped instil.

As one era closes and another begins, both the Bluebirds and Dunford now embark on new journeys — apart, but forever connected by the legacy they built together.

Picture by Geraint Nicholas/FAW

Before taking on his new challenge at Pontypridd United, Mark Dunford took time to speak to Top Bins Magazine about his decision to leave Trethomas Bluebirds, his memories of the journey, and his ambitions for the future.

Reflecting on your time at Trethomas Bluebirds, what moments stand out to you the most?

My time at Trethomas Bluebirds consisted of three full seasons, with an interrupted first campaign due to COVID-19. There have been some amazing memories that will stay with me for a very long time. Lifting the Ardal Southern Cup, the FAW Amateur Trophy, and the Ardal Southeast title, along with promotion to the Cymru South and an astonishing second-place finish at the first attempt, speak for themselves. Everyone on and off the pitch who played a role in those achievements should be incredibly proud.

Our trip to Bangor 1876 FC during our FAW Amateur Trophy-winning season stands out. Travelling the day before the game, offered an experience that the club had never encountered before. We were underdogs, as we often were, and we produced an unbelievable performance to win 2-1 against a massive club, who at the time were riding the crest of a wave, receiving a standing ovation from the Bangor fans. That was the moment Welsh football took notice; Trethomas Bluebirds were going places.

Another standout moment for me personally came in our title-winning season, during our 28th game week at Caldicot. Jubilee Way had rarely been kind to me as a player or manager, and with Newport City chasing us, the pressure was immense. We went 3-0 up after 54 minutes but let them claw back to 3-2 by the 70th. The last 20 minutes were hell. But we held on. I remember standing in the sun with a pint afterward, thinking, that was huge. That moment made it clear we were going to lift the title and secure promotion.

Even in a 7-0 loss, while we were an Ardal Leagues club, taking Trethomas away to TNS in the Welsh Cup was a true honour. It was an experience everyone at the club deserved.

Trethomas achieved so much during your time there. What do you think were the key factors behind the club's success and the strong push for back-to-back promotions?

A strong, shared vision backed by relentless hard work, commitment, and dedication from players and back-room staff was the foundation of our success. The knowledge and experience shared between me and the management team allowed us to make informed decisions, from player and staff recruitmen to training schedules and game strategies. Crucially, we were empowered with the autonomy to lead, and that trust played a massive role in shaping the journe

How difficult was the decision to step away from Trethomas after everything you had built there?

As a trio, our minds were made up earlier this year, regardless of how the season turned out. There were many factors behind the decision, and I think those who understand football get why we made it. It has been a pleasure reminiscing with people at the club and reflecting on a journey we are immensely proud of; myself, Matthew, and Adam alike.

Trethomas Bluebirds provided the platform for myse my staff, and the players to go about our business an succeed, and I believe we did that at an incredible level.

Pontypridd United is a club you know well from your playing days. How excited are you to return now as manager?

Extremely excited. I was in my mid 30s but I had a great playing experience there, and lifting a league title is a fond memory. The club has faced a tough period following relegation from the Cymru Premier, which any club would struggle with. But credit to the board, they have started a 'reset' for the upcoming season, and I am excited to be part of that fresh start.

What are your short-term and long-term aims with Pontypridd United?

In the short term, it is essential to establish strong values, norms, and an environment built on commitment, desire, and accountability. That foundation has been key to our success in the past. To assemble a squad consisting of a blend of experience, quality and a mentality that reflects mine and the management team will be crucial. Pontypridd United is a huge club and one that I am very proud to be the first team manager of.

I also want to deliver a product that inspires the academy and pathway players, to install motivation and a hunger to learn and improve throughout the club.

Longer term, our goal is to return to the top tier of Welsh football and to one day pursue the holy grail, European football.

Looking back, how proud are you of the progress Trethomas made during your time in charge, both on and off the pitch?

Extremely proud. I have said before that Trethomas is now firmly on the national football map. Taking a club from relative obscurity to national title winners and a second-place finish in our first JD Cymru South campaign is something special. When you are in it, you do not want to shout about it too much, but in reflection, those three seasons were nothing short of incredible.

What message would you like to send to everyone at Trethomas Bluebirds?

Thank you to the people who made this journey possible, you know who you are. It has been an unbelievable ride for us all. I want to give special recognition to Gary Morris, our kit man, and his assistant and brother, Tyrone Morris. The dedication they have shown to the group is unmatched. I am sure I speak for all the players when I say: you are both true legends of Trethomas Bluebirds and will always hold a special place in my football heart.

Connor Roberts to retire from professional football

The New Saints (TNS) goalkeeper Connor Roberts has announced he will retire from professional football at the end of the 2024/25 season.

Roberts, 32, has been a key figure for TNS since joining the club in 2017. During his time at Park Hall, he helped the team win multiple Cymru Premier titles and domestic cups, and he represented the club in several UEFA Champions League and Europa Conference League qualifying campaigns.

A former Wales Under-21 international, Roberts also had spells with clubs including Cheltenham Town and Bangor City earlier in his career. His performances at TNS have consistently been among the best in the league, earning him recognition as one of the Cymru Premier's top goalkeepers over several seasons.

His retirement will mark the end of a successful playing career spanning more than a decade. TNS and their supporters will no doubt celebrate Roberts' contributions to the club as he prepares for the next chapter of his life beyond the pitch.

Llanelli Town confirm departures of Eason and Strinati

Llanelli Town have confirmed that Liam Eason and Camilo Strinati will both leave Stebonheath Park ahead of the new season.

Eason, who arrived in January from Pontypridd, proved to be a transformative signing for the Reds. The prolific forward fired 27 goals across all competitions, making him the top scorer across the JD Cymru North, JD Cymru South, and JD Cymru Premier divisions. His clinical finishing and consistency in front of goal were key factors in Llanelli's strong second half of the campaign as they chased promotion.

Camilo Strinati, who also signed in January, operated primarily as a defender. He was a regular in the first team throughout the season, contributing consistently across the backline and helping Llanelli maintain a strong defensive record.

Manager Lee John praised both players, saying: "Both Liam and Cam have been brilliant for us since January, big personalities around the changing room and they've both had a huge impact on the field. For different reasons they've decided they can't commit to the WPL which is disappointing but we are also grateful for their contributions and wish them well for the future."

Everyone at Llanelli Town has expressed their thanks to Eason and Strinati for their efforts and wished them the best in their future careers.

In addition, Llanelli Town also announced that Alex Giardelli will be leaving the club. Giardelli made important contributions throughout the campaign, adding further depth and quality to the squad during an important season for the Reds.

As the club looks forward to a new era, there will be no shortage of gratitude for the departing management team's contributions.

End of an era: Barry Town United captain Kayne McLaggon to depart after eight years

Barry Town United will bid an emotional farewell to club captain Kayne McLaggon this weekend, as the long-serving striker prepares to leave his hometown club after eight memorable years.

McLaggon will make his final home appearance at Jenner Park on Saturday, when Barry take on Briton Ferry Llansawel on the last day of the regular Cymru Premier season. It marks the end of a remarkable chapter in Barry's modern history, one in which McLaggon has been a constant presence and a symbol of the club's resurgence.

Since rejoining the Cymru Premier in 2017 under former manager Gavin Chesterfield, McLaggon has been pivotal to Barry's success. Across 245 appearances, he scored an impressive 128 goals, including five hat-tricks, and played a leading role as Barry re-established themselves as a top-flight force.

During his time at Jenner Park, McLaggon helped the club lift three major trophies, including the Cymru South title and the inaugural Welsh Blood Service Cup in the 2022–23 season. His contributions also helped Barry qualify for the Europa League on two occasions, adding continental football to the club's list of achievements.

McLaggon's influence extended beyond the domestic stage. He earned international recognition with Wales C, winning two caps and scoring once in their annual matches against England's semi-professional side.

Although his role this season has been more limited, with 24 appearances and four goals to his name, McLaggon's leadership and experience have continued to be vital. Barry's place in the end-of-season play-offs is a testament to the squad's resilience, and McLaggon has played his part to the very end.

As Barry Town United and their fans prepare to say goodbye, Kayne McLaggon leaves behind a legacy that will be hard to match. Few players have contributed so much, for so long, to their hometown club — and his name will forever be etched into the fabric of Barry's proud history.

Final day drama: Colwyn Bay crowned champions as relegation battles go down to the wire

The final day of the Cymru North and South delivered all the drama Welsh football fans could have wished for — glory at the top, heartbreak at the bottom, and unforgettable late twists.

In the Cymru North, Colwyn Bay completed a superb season by lifting the title, edging out Airbus UK Broughton in a thrilling and closely-fought race. Bay's consistency and resilience across the campaign ultimately saw them over the line, sealing promotion to the Cymru Premier in front of jubilant supporters.

But while Colwyn Bay celebrated, the tension at the bottom of the table reached breaking point. Bangor 1876, fighting to secure survival, fell to a devastating 1–0 defeat against Ruthin Town. Former Bangor striker Jamie Reed delivered the killer blow, scoring with a spectacular overhead kick in the 83rd minute to seal Ruthin's survival and condemn his former club to relegation in agonising fashion.

Meanwhile, the Cymru South produced its own incredible story. Penrhiwceiber Rangers, needing a result to stay up, found themselves 3–1 down before mounting a sensational comeback to lead 5–4. Yet in the final minute, disaster struck as their opponents snatched an equaliser to make it 5–5. Despite their fighting spirit and attacking heroics, the single point was not enough, and Penrhiwceiber were relegated in heartbreaking circumstances.

As the dust settles on a dramatic final day, Colwyn Bay are crowned champions, while Bangor 1876 and Penrhiwceiber Rangers are left reflecting on how close they came to survival. It was a day that once again proved why Welsh football is one of the most fiercely competitive and emotional scenes anywhere.

Newport City: Making an impact in the JD Cymru South

Newport City have made an impressive start to life in the JD Cymru South, finishing third in their debut season at Tier 2 level and firmly establishing themselves as one of the league's emerging clubs.

The club, originally founded in 1963 as Spencer Works and later known as Llanwern FC, underwent a rebrand to Newport City in 2016, aiming to widen their appeal across the city. Since then, they have made steady progress through the Welsh football pyramid, culminating in promotion to the JD Cymru South for the 2024/25 season.

City adapted quickly to the step up in quality. Under the guidance of manager Sam Houldsworth, they finished third in the table, just five points behind title challengers Trethomas Bluebirds — the same side who had edged them to first place the previous season in the Ardal South East. Building on the momentum from their promotion campaign, Newport City produced an outstanding eight-game unbeaten run, including seven wins, to close out the season and secure their top-three finish.

Danny Hillman and Kofi Rowe finished as the club's joint top scorers with six goals each, while Richard Noyes contributed an impressive 15 assists over the course of the campaign. Despite losing key player Louis Phillips to JD Cymru Premier side The New Saints during the winter break, City maintained their form to stay firmly in the promotion race.

Newport City continue to play their home matches at Newport Stadium and are focused on maintaining their position at Tier 2. Following their strong debut season, the club will now look to build on their progress heading into the 2025/26 campaign.

For a club that has risen steadily through the ranks in recent years, Newport City's future in the JD Cymru South looks full of promise.

Llandudno FC: A season of progress and opportunity

Llandudno FC's 2024/25 campaign proved to be a season of recovery and opportunity, as the club overcame a difficult start to finish fourth in the JD Cymru North while continuing to invest heavily in youth development.

Following their relegation from the Cymru Premier in 2019, the Seasiders have been rebuilding steadily, and this season underlined the club's resilience. Llandudno spent the vast majority of the first fifteen weeks in the bottom four but showed significant improvement during the second half of the season, rising up the table to secure a top-four finish.

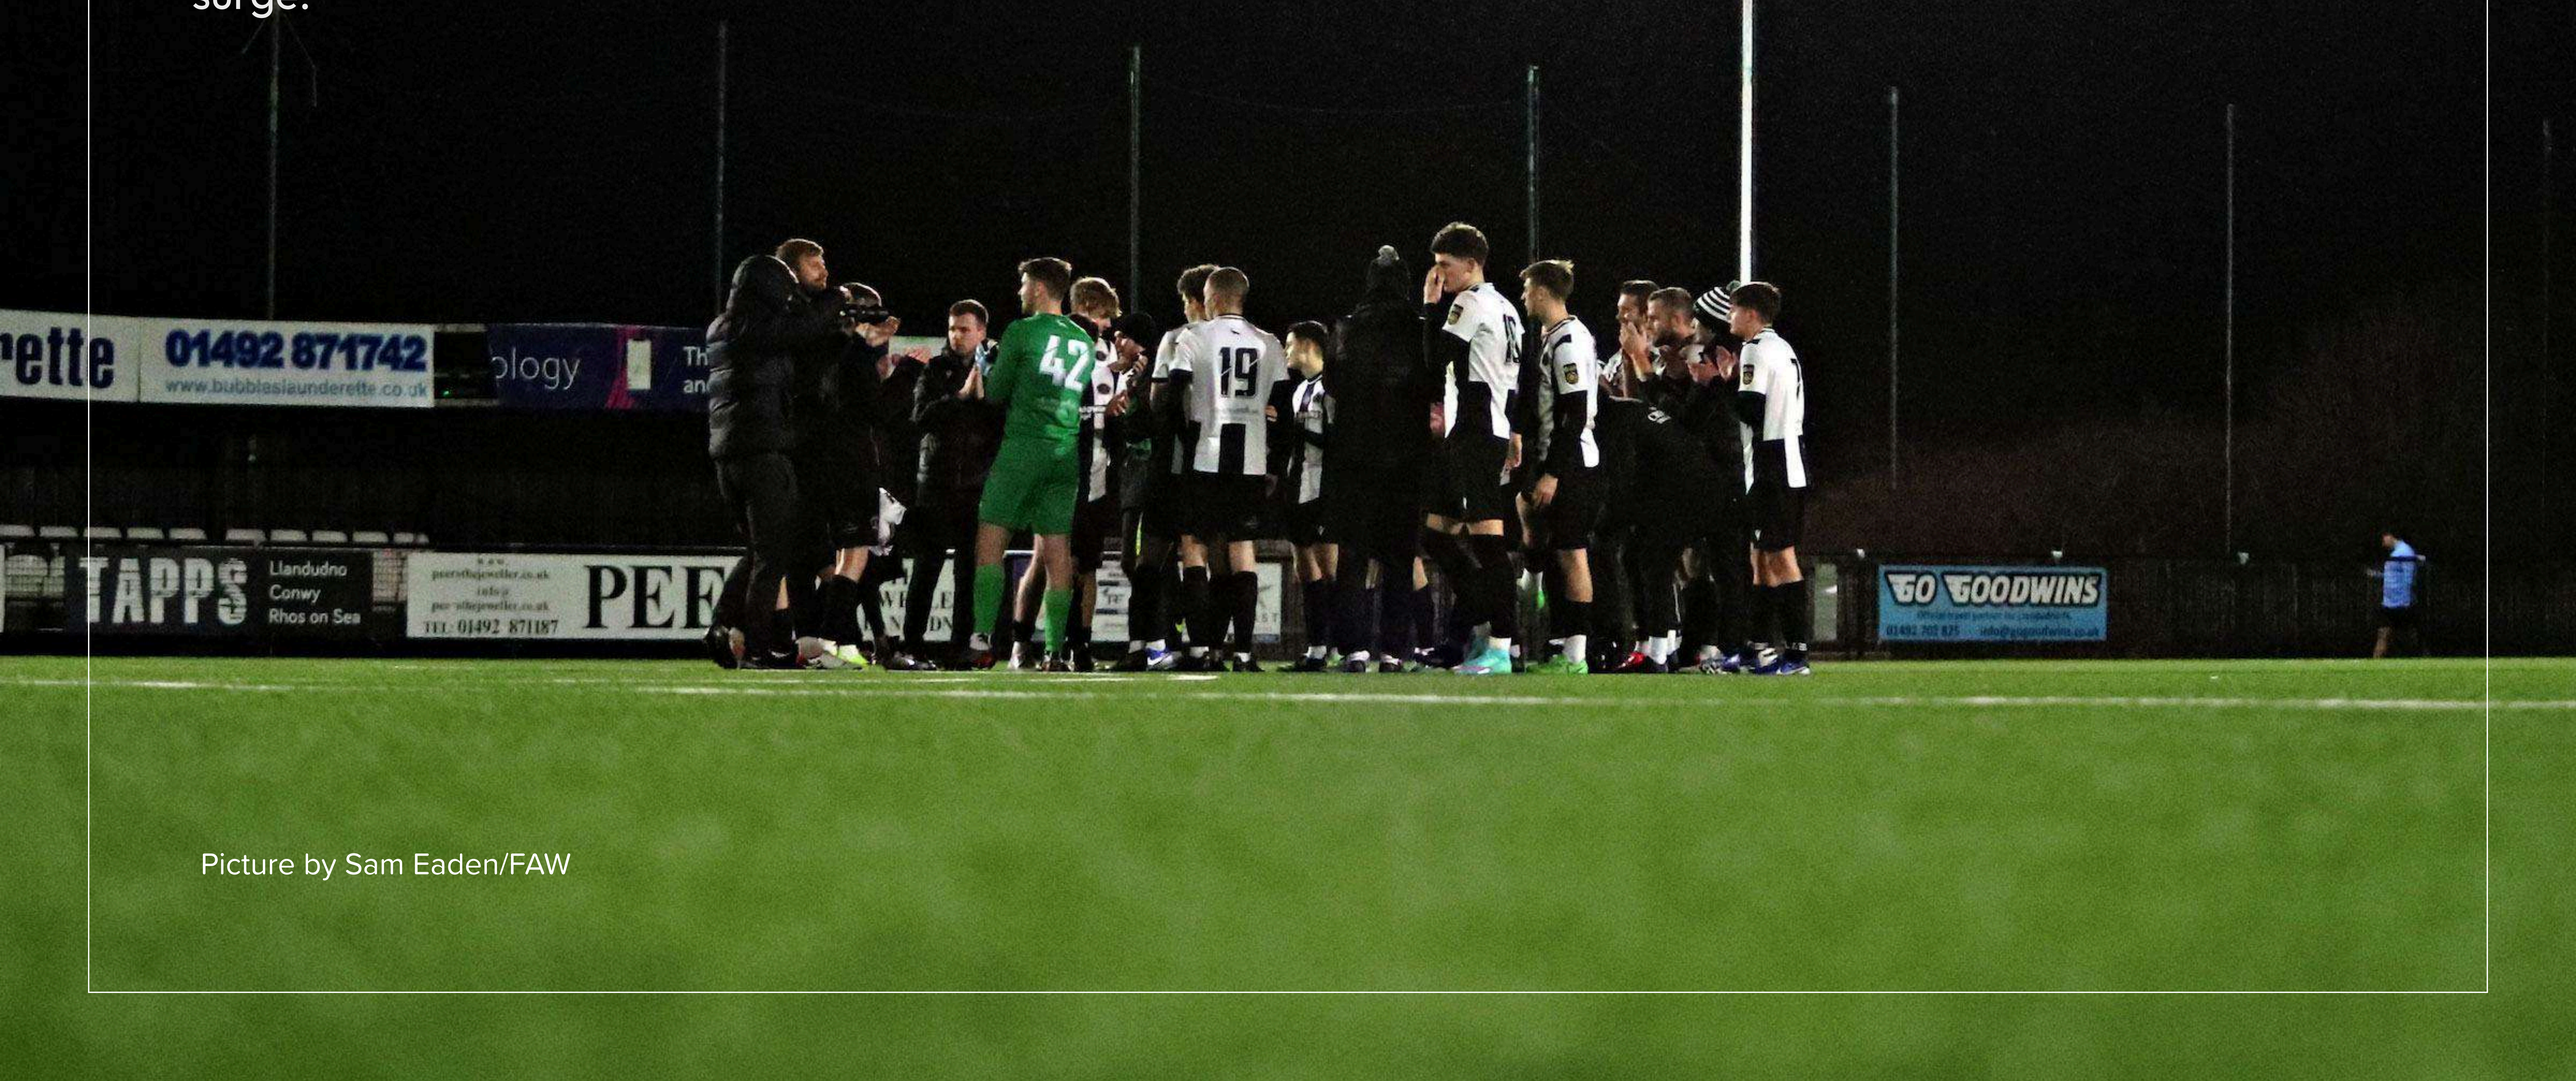

Playing their home matches at the Go Goodwins Stadium, Llandudno were managed by Jordan Hadaway, who helped guide the team through a challenging early period. A combination of tactical adjustments and key performances from senior players helped turn the team's fortunes after the winter break.

Llandudno finished the season strongly, winning 12 of their final 16 matches, drawing one and losing just three. Mark Cadwallader led the attack with an impressive 21 goals, supported by Harvey Bennett with 12 and Adam Stephens with 11. Their consistent scoring form played a major part in the club's late-season surge.

A key feature of the campaign was Llandudno's commitment to promoting young talent. Thirteen reserve team players made first-team appearances across the season, contributing over 2,500 minutes of game time in first-team competitions. The club's youth development efforts were also reflected in the reserve team's success, winning both the Reserves League and the Reserves Cup.

Off the pitch, the club continued efforts to strengthen links with the local football community, ensuring a strong pathway for young players into senior football. Llandudno's ambition remains clear: to return to the Cymru Premier and re-establish themselves at the top level of Welsh football.

With a fourth-place finish, a strong attacking record, and a thriving youth structure, Llandudno head into the 2025/26 season with real optimism for the future.

Picture by Sam Eaden/FAW

After guiding Llandudno FC to a strong fourth-place finish in the JD Cymru North, manager Jordan Hadaway spoke to us about the club's progress, the impact of youth development, and his ambitions for the 2025/26 season.

This season saw a huge turnaround after a tough start — what do you feel was the key to the team's improvement in the second half of the campaign?

We had a great pre season playing difficult opposition such as Trafford and West Didsbury and come away with good performances then we headed into Mold away first game of the season and we just didn't perform to the levels we could of and I feel like it derailed us. That performance knocked the wind out of us and then we lost key players to injury in the weeks to follow such as Rowan Davies and Dan Jones to ACL injuries, Adam Stephens and Billy Nicholas to broken metatarsals and Mark Caddy to broken toes any team that looses them player would struggle but we carried on and worked even harder and never once used it as an excuse. My theory always when things go against you is to work even harder and stick together and the tide will turn, that's exactly what we did as a group of staff and players. I feel like we were always going to pick up when we could get a consistent side out on the pitch and once the injuries settled that's what happened and the run we went on was magnificent and backed up with a great window in January bringing some real quality additions to push us over the line and that's exactly what happened. I feel like from the last weekend in November to the last game we were definitely a top 3 team in form and that's credit to everyone at the club for working harder and not using excuses when it wasn't going our way.

You gave significant opportunities to young players this year — how important is youth development to your vision for the club?

Since the day I have been manager of this club I have always wanted to give a pathway to young players who have the right attitude and work ethic but also the quality. I always feel like in Welsh football we could be better at that within our domestic leagues. I don't care how old a player is if they are good enough they will get the opportunity to play for us and that's proof in the statistics over the past two seasons. We have had in both seasons over 20 players appear in the first team and well over 5,000 minutes played by reserve team players. I want Llandudno to be the team that any young player who wants to test themselves at the level comes to and works their way through our reserves into the first team as if they are good enough they will get the chance. That's something that I am proud of since taking the job the amount of young players that have played for our first team, previously I was a U19s manager and know how hard it is to develop players to first team standard if their is no opportunity but we give opportunities and lads have taken them which is a credit to everyone involved.

Mark Cadwallader had a fantastic season in front of goal — how important was his leadership both on and off the pitch?

It took me honestly 12/15 months to get Mark in. I knew that some would raise eyebrows at the signing however those that know will understand why I say this, the type of person he is firstly is very difficult to find in football, he is honest and very good with the young players in and around the club. Secondly his ability, I felt that we needed someone to spearhead the progression path of this club to move us forward and him and Antony Stephens were that. His goal contribution speaks for itself, he is dangerous in the attacking box and is so valuable to the way we set up. I want to get at least another 3 seasons out of him, not sure he would agree at that though! He has been absolutely brilliant for me, the players and the club and long may that continue.

After finishing fourth, what are your main targets for Llandudno heading into the 2025/26 season?

My target has always been to beat our last points target, that doesn't change just because there are three promotion spots we will stick by that target. If we beat this years points return then we will be up there, to do that though we need to make sure we start the season a lot better than we did last season, we have proved we can pick up form but it's got to be from the start next season. Llandudno football club for me sure be apart of the Welsh Premier Legaue as it's one of the biggest clubs in North Wales and I hope to be the one that leads us back to WPL in the future but when we're ready.

Cymru Prem golden gloves

The 2024/25 JD Cymru Premier season has come to a thrilling conclusion, with the focus not just on the goalscorers — but also on the goalkeepers who kept their sides in contention week after week.

Zac Jones	15
Adam Przybek	12

Leading the way this year was Zac Jones of Haverfordwest County, who claims the Cymru Premier Golden Glove after a season of consistent excellence.
